

CALLING ALL COWBOYS

Please stay at home on the range.

Principled work practice is the order of the day at Taylor McLaren and we expect our consultants to perform their duties ethically and professionally at all times. We also believe that many recruitment companies adopt an archaic and inappropriate approach to their employees where as we offer total autonomy with your working day structure without a detrimental impact on your salary.

If you believe in an honest approach to candidates/clients alike and you wish to increase your current earnings significantly and work wherever and whenever you wish, saddle-up and join our posse.

Sounds too good to be true?
