

WORK-LIFE BALANCE?

A reality at Taylor McLaren.

Families are important and consequently, we do not penalise an individual for spending time with theirs. We are flexible with work hours and location as we acknowledge that employees desire greater control with their time. We also appreciate the efforts a successful recruitment consultant puts in to the job and therefore we reward our consultants appropriately by offering a larger share of the fees generated.

Increase your current earnings significantly and work wherever and whenever you wish.
